

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. This allows us to determine how the quantity of an offering relates to the price at which it is offered:
 - (a) Price bundling.
 - (b) Price elasticity.
 - (c) Price inelasticity.
 - (d) Price inflation.
2. What theory is built around the principle that 'people make choices regarding how to behave based on values and beliefs'?
 - (a) Expectancy
 - (b) Instrumental
 - (c) Classical
 - (d) Contingency
3. There are three main types of buying situations in an organization, referred to by Robinson, Faris, and Wind (1967) as _____.
 - (a) Repeat purchases.
 - (b) Buyphases.
 - (c) Buyclasses.
 - (d) Tenders.
4. What is not a characteristic of a corporate social responsibility framework?
 - (a) Retaining the status quo
 - (b) Understanding society
 - (c) Harnessing diversity
 - (d) Building capacity
5. What is the term for the extent to which competition in one country is influenced by competition in other countries?
 - (a) International trade
 - (b) Global economics
 - (c) Global competition
 - (d) Globalisation

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: A succession plan is a formal process of planning to fill a role that will become vacant.
7. True or False: The OECD posits that corporate governance issues often arise due to the separation of ownership and control in organizations.
8. True or False: Functional publics are the primary source of authority and support for an organization's operations.
9. True or False: Qualitative research methods primarily focus on collecting numerical data from many respondents through structured questions.
10. True or False: A strategic business unit operates as an autonomous entity within a larger corporate structure, focusing on specific markets or products.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the concept of Integrated Marketing Communications (IMC) and analyze its role in ensuring a consistent brand message across various marketing channels.
12. Discuss the role of broadcast media in advertising, focusing on how it demonstrates product benefits and enhances the effectiveness of marketing messages.

End of Paper