Answer True or False

6. True or False: In these animals the foremost few segments often lack septa so that, when the muscles in these segments contract, the sharp increase in fluid pressure from all these segments everts the pharynx very quickly. Two families, the Eunicidae and Phyllodocidae, have evolved jaws, which can be used for a different answer.
7. True or False: The daily mean temperature in January, the area's coldest month, is  $32.6^{\circ}\text{C}$ ; however, temperatures usually drop to  $10^{\circ}\text{C}$ – $12^{\circ}\text{C}$  several times per winter, and reach  $50^{\circ}\text{C}$  several days per year.
7. True or False: For the next 36 years, the 13 th Dalai Lama and the regents who succeeded him governed Tibet. During this time, Tibet fought Chinese warlords for control of the ethnically Tibetan areas in Xikang and Qinghai (parts of Kham and Amdo) along the upper reaches of the Yangtze River. In 1948 the Tibetan government signed the Simla Accord with Britain, ceding the South Tibet region to British India.
8. True or False: Several rock bands were formed in Southampton, including Band of Skulls, The Delays, Bury Tomorrow, Heart in Hand, Thomas Tantrum (disbanded in 2011) and Kids Can't Fly (disbanded in 2014). James Zabiela, a highly regarded and recognised name in a different answer music, is also from Southampton.
9. True or False: Some of the later writers about the show were more positive, Michael Slezak, again of Entertainment Weekly, thought that "for all its bloated, synthetic, product-shilling, money-making trappings, Idol provides a once-a-year chance for the average American to combat the evils of today's music business." Singer Sheryl Crow, who was later to act as a mentor on the show, however took the view that the show "undermines art in every way and promotes commercialism".

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Read the following passage and answer the question: Rome had no separate priestly caste or class. The highest authority within a community usually sponsored its cults and sacrifices, officiated as its priest and promoted its assistants and acolytes. Specialists from the religious colleges and professionals such as haruspices and oracles were available for consultation. In household cult, the paterfamilias functioned as priest, and members of his familia as acolytes and assistants. Public cults required greater knowledge and expertise. The earliest public priesthoods were probably the flamines (the singular is flamen), attributed to king Numa: the major flamines, dedicated to Jupiter, Mars and Quirinus, were traditionally drawn from patrician families. Twelve lesser flamines were each dedicated to a single deity, whose archaic nature is indi...

Question: What authority in a community sponsored religious rites?

12. Read the following passage and answer the question: Brass, which is an alloy of copper and zinc, has been used since at least the 10 th century BC in Judea and by the 7 th century BC in Ancient Greece. Zinc metal was not produced on a large scale until the 12 th century in India and was unknown to Europe until the end of the 16 th century. The mines of Rajasthan have given definite evidence of zinc production going back to the 6 th century BC. To date, the oldest evidence of pure zinc comes from Zawar, in Rajasthan, as early as the 9 th century AD when a distillation process was employed to make pure zinc. Alchemists burned zinc in air to form what they called "philosopher's wool" or "white snow". Question: We have evidence of zinc production dating back to the 6 th century thanks to what mine?
