

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. Which of the following are possible constraints on US foreign policy decision making?
 - (a) Foreign policies of other states
 - (b) International law
 - (c) Intergovernmental organizations
 - (d) All of the above
2. Who was the first American president to visit communist China?
 - (a) Richard Nixon
 - (b) George H. W. Bush
 - (c) Jimmy Carter
 - (d) Ronald Reagan
3. What is meant by the phrase 'empire by invitation'?
 - (a) Voluntary reliance on an external power for security
 - (b) Willful openness to colonization
 - (c) Cultural imperialism
 - (d) Open advocacy of imperialism for economic gain
4. Who is considered the "father" of containment?
 - (a) George Kennan
 - (b) John Foster Dulles
 - (c) Henry Kissinger
 - (d) Dwight Eisenhower
5. What accounted for the US avoidance of catastrophe at the hands of the British in 1814?
 - (a) Naval victories
 - (b) Diplomacy
 - (c) British preoccupation with Europe
 - (d) All of the above

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: Vectors of economic incentives differ fundamentally from institutional constraints, information, and goals in shaping political behavior.
7. True or False: The concept that war is a continuation of politics underscores how governments utilize military force to achieve policy objectives.
8. True or False: The National Security Council is the main executive agency that designs and executes U.S. foreign policy initiatives.
9. True or False: The term 'Rogue States' specifically identifies communist nations aligned with the Soviet Union during the Cold War.
10. True or False: George H.W. Bush's administration provided unreserved support for Gorbachev while denouncing Yeltsin's policies in Russia.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the various factors that contribute to the differing relationships between U.S. and European security studies, analyzing their historical, political, and cultural dimensions.
12. Discuss the concept of the 'subaltern' in postcolonialism, analyzing its implications for marginalized populations within hegemonic power structures.

End of Paper