

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. Which of the following might be considered part of the 'deepening and broadening' of security?
 - (a) The nexus between identity and security.
 - (b) War, the military, and the sovereign state.
 - (c) Environmental changes.
 - (d) All of these options.
2. Which of the following concepts does NOT form part of the technical discourse on cyber- security?
 - (a) Business networks
 - (b) Computer experts
 - (c) Anti-virus industry
 - (d) Computer networks
3. Who said "Globalization is not something we can hold off or turn off. It is the economic equivalent of a force of nature-like wind or water"?
 - (a) Ronald Reagan
 - (b) George Soros
 - (c) Bill Clinton
 - (d) George W. Bush
4. What is the referent object in contemporary cyber-security?
 - (a) Digitalised sensitive information
 - (b) Critical Information Infrastructures
 - (c) Government IT systems
 - (d) Telecommunication networks
5. Intergovernmental organizations SELDOM do which of the following?
 - (a) Provide strong enforcement
 - (b) Monitor parties
 - (c) Provide fora for discussion
 - (d) Reduce transaction costs for agreements

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: Constraints on US foreign policy decision making include the foreign policies of other states, international law, and intergovernmental organizations.
7. True or False: Rosenau claims that only the President's individual personality is significant in explaining U.S. foreign policy behavior.
8. True or False: The Roosevelt Doctrine emphasized the importance of European intervention in Latin America to maintain stability.
9. True or False: Exceptionalism links isolationist and internationalist strategies as both can be viewed as different means of achieving similar liberal outcomes.
10. True or False: The costs of free trade are often concentrated among specific industries, while the benefits are widely dispersed across the economy.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the common criticisms of the human security concept, analyzing their implications for its effectiveness in addressing contemporary global issues.
12. Discuss the interplay between culture and social constructivism in shaping state identity and security perceptions within the realm of political science.

End of Paper