

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. The relative stability of American public policy is achieved largely through
 - (a) cooperation between the two major political parties
 - (b) judicial activism
 - (c) the constitutional fragmentation of power
 - (d) affirmative action programs
2. The Constitution, as originally ratified, addressed all of the following weaknesses of the Articles of Confederation EXCEPT the
 - (a) lack of a chief executive office
 - (b) national government's inability to levy taxes effectively
 - (c) absence of a central authority to regulate interstate trade
 - (d) omission of a universal suffrage clause
3. When the Democratic Party pursues liberal social policies, it is most likely to alienate which of its traditional bases?
 - (a) People holding advanced academic degrees
 - (b) Northeastern city dwellers
 - (c) Southerners
 - (d) Jewish Americans
4. Inefficient balancing or buckpassing by states can lead to what?
 - (a) An increase in non-traditional security threats.
 - (b) A more cooperative international system.
 - (c) A more competitive international system.
 - (d) An increase in inter-state alliances and military restraint.
5. Which of the following is not a special position held by a member of Congress?
 - (a) President pro tempore
 - (b) Speaker of the House
 - (c) Congressional Management Foundation Chair
 - (d) Minority Whip

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) primarily focuses on foreign intelligence to inform U.S. foreign policy decisions.
7. True or False: Court cases in which one private party is suing another are tried in civil court.
8. True or False: The First Amendment protects Americans' right to petition the government for a redress of grievances.
9. True or False: Federal election laws prevent campaigns from issuing any form of negative advertising, including 'attack' ads.
10. True or False: The phrase 'surgical strike' is often viewed as a legitimate form of military engagement in contemporary warfare.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the dynamics of third-party movements in the political landscape, focusing on how their goals influence the strategies of major parties and the eventual disintegration of these movements.
12. Discuss the intrinsic connections between energy security and various security sectors, analyzing how they influence each other in the context of political science.

End of Paper