

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. Congress would be required to use the "elastic clause" of the Constitution to
 - (a) change citizenship requirements
 - (b) impose workplace safety standards
 - (c) increase tax rates
 - (d) authorize the treasury to print money
2. Who said "Globalization is not something we can hold off or turn off. It is the economic equivalent of a force of nature-like wind or water"?
 - (a) Ronald Reagan
 - (b) George Soros
 - (c) Bill Clinton
 - (d) George W. Bush
3. Which of the following principles is realized when the federal government provides most of the funding to a project in which multiple levels of government work together?
 - (a) Confederation
 - (b) Fiscal federalism
 - (c) Grant-based funding
 - (d) Dual federalism
4. What is 'malware'?
 - (a) A virus or worm
 - (b) A Trojan horse
 - (c) A hacker tool
 - (d) A corrupted program
5. Among the executive branch's checks on the legislative branch is the president's power to
 - (a) call special sessions of Congress
 - (b) introduce bills to the floor of Congress
 - (c) address Congress during its debate on bills
 - (d) vote on acts of Congress

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: The Civil Rights Act of 1964 aimed to strengthen the presidential veto power over state legislation.
7. True or False: The term 'American multiplication table' signifies the increase in US military capability during the 20 th century.
8. True or False: An electoral system with single-member districts typically leads to the development of a two-party system.
9. True or False: The line-item veto was deemed unconstitutional because it allowed states to nullify federal legislation without congressional approval.
10. True or False: The cyber-security discourse first emerged in the 1990 s as a response to the rise of the internet.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the reasons why the roles of women in warfare were historically overlooked in security studies prior to the late 20 th century, focusing on the framing of their contributions.
12. Discuss the various techniques and targets that contribute to a comprehensive understanding of terrorism and its implications for political science.

End of Paper