

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. Safe practices in the laboratory include all of these except
 - (a) tying back long hair.
 - (b) wearing safety goggles.
 - (c) performing each step quickly.
 - (d) wiping up spills immediately.
2. In a forest, how do decomposers help other organisms survive?
 - (a) They release oxygen into the air that animals breathe.
 - (b) They put nutrients into the soil that plants use to grow.
 - (c) They provide shelter in forests where animals can hide.
 - (d) They use sunlight to make food for plants and animals.
3. The Moon lacks weather and climate changes like those on Earth. What causes the lack of weather on the Moon?
 - (a) the lack of water
 - (b) the presence of igneous rock
 - (c) the very thin atmosphere
 - (d) the lack of magnetic poles
4. Della has a mixture of soil and water in a jar. Which of the following tools would best help Della separate the soil from the water?
 - (a) a filter
 - (b) a measuring cup
 - (c) a balance
 - (d) a magnifying glass
5. Most mountains on Earth occur in huge ranges stretching for thousands of miles. Which event is most likely to cause the formation of these mountain ranges?
 - (a) erosion of rocks
 - (b) violent earthquakes
 - (c) volcanic eruption
 - (d) movement of plates

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: A human sperm cell contains 46 chromosomes, which is the same number as in a typical human cell.
7. True or False: The speedometer in an automobile is designed to provide feedback to the driver about the vehicle's current speed.
8. True or False: Daffodils that reproduce sexually can increase the diversity of inherited traits within their population.
9. True or False: If there are too many bison in an area, there will be less grass and more bare soil due to overgrazing.
10. True or False: North America receives less direct sunlight during the winter months compared to summer months.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the role of the body's regulatory systems in maintaining a normal temperature of 98.6° and explain how these systems respond to changes in the environment.
11. Discuss how the visual properties of minerals, such as color and luster, can be used to identify them. Provide examples to support your analysis.

End of Paper