

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. War became possible between nation states in the nineteenth century because:
  - (a) the world was divided into several rival overseas empires
  - (b) industrialization provided better transport, technology and administration
  - (c) there was intense economic, political and military competition
  - (d) all of the above
2. Which of the following was not defined by Giddens (1998) as part of New Labour's 'third way':
  - (a) the democratization of the family
  - (b) putting an end to privatization
  - (c) positive welfare: 'a hand up, not a hand-out'
  - (d) the strengthening of civil society
3. Dahrendorf, Rex, and Habermas focused their attention on:
  - (a) social solidarity and cohesion
  - (b) the interpretive understanding of action
  - (c) women's experiences and gendered knowledge
  - (d) power, domination, and conflict
4. The media-themes model of media influence claims that:
  - (a) audiences selectively interpret what they want to hear
  - (b) content analysis is the best way to identify the themes covered by the media
  - (c) audiences passively absorb whatever messages they are given
  - (d) social interaction reinforces the ideas and images that audiences select
5. The 'class polarization' that Marx predicted referred to:
  - (a) the division of each social class into the more or less privileged
  - (b) a growing gap between rich and poor, resulting in class consciousness
  - (c) the growth of intermediate strata in the middle classes
  - (d) the tendency for the working class to live in very cold places

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: Cultural restructuring includes regenerating economically declining cities, transforming industrial landscapes, and utilizing media advertising.
7. True or False: Bourdieu argued that cultural capital plays a significant role in the reproduction of social class distinctions.
8. True or False: Chodorow (1978) claimed that girls develop attachment to their fathers while boys remain attached to their mothers throughout childhood.
9. True or False: The 1944 Education Act provided public schooling only for those who could afford it, excluding lower-income families.
10. True or False: One parent is solely responsible for the child's welfare and socialization following a divorce.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss how the functionalist perspective conceptualizes society as a system of inter-dependent parts, and analyze its implications for understanding social stability and change.
12. Discuss Murray's conception of the 'underclass' in sociology, analyzing the characteristics he attributes to this group and the implications for social policy and theory.

End of Paper