

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. Bernstein thought that using 'restricted codes' of language disadvantaged pupils at school because:
 - (a) this pattern of speech made them the target of bullying
 - (b) they referred to explicit, context independent meanings
 - (c) they prevented children from communicating outside of their peer groups
 - (d) they involved short, simple sentences with a small vocabulary
2. Mulholland (1998) argued that privatization changed the relationship between companies and managers in that:
 - (a) flexibility was reduced by the introduction of detailed daily worksheets
 - (b) the state had greater control than managers over production processes
 - (c) ownership was transferred from small shareholders to senior managers
 - (d) employment depended on performance rather than trust and commitment
3. How is terrorism different from the types of crime described by the Chicago School?
 - (a) it is committed on a larger, often global, scale, and is well organized
 - (b) it is associated with political conflict between states and their citizens
 - (c) it can have far-reaching effects upon international relations
 - (d) all of the above
4. The middle classes that developed over the nineteenth century were:
 - (a) an urban set, involved in civic bodies and voluntary associations
 - (b) too diverse to have a strong sense of class consciousness
 - (c) often involved in 'white collar' work
 - (d) all of the above
5. The capitalist class of the mid-twentieth century were said to join the upper class because they:
 - (a) participated in the same leisure pursuits and events of the 'social calendar'
 - (b) emulated the lifestyle and cultural values of the traditional aristocracy
 - (c) owned companies and financial assets that generated wealth through corporations
 - (d) had direct, personal ownerships of land and businesses as physical assets

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: In stage 3 of the 'health transition', acute infectious diseases such as typhus and cholera remain the main causes of illness and death.
7. True or False: The rates of violent crime are similar for men and women, suggesting equal levels of aggression among genders.
8. True or False: The social democratic model emphasizes individualistic self-reliance and supports deregulation of wages and prices.
9. True or False: The growing fear of HIV and AIDS, influenced by the New Right, did not arise until after the sexual revolution of the 1960 s.
10. True or False: A document is deemed 'authentic' if it represents all similar documents that did not survive.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the implications of globalization on the power dynamics of nation-states, specifically addressing which aspects of globalization challenge traditional state authority.
12. Discuss Wallerstein's concept of a 'world system' in the context of the capitalist world economy, emphasizing the significance of a division of labor across diverse ethnic and cultural groups.

End of Paper